Letter from the Baronage

reetings Unto the Populace,

First off, we wish to congratulate our Kingdom's new Prince and Princess Duke Maynard von dem Steine and Countess Liadain ni Dheirdre Chaomhanaigh. Vivat!, Vivat!, Vivat!!

We will be attending some of our neighbors events in the upcoming weeks and would love to see more of our populace come out and support them as well.

With the falling of the leaves and temperatures we find ourselves looking forward to Yule. This will be our last Yule tide as your Baron and Baroness and we can't help but feel a little emotional. We truly love this event as it is a time to come together and realize that we are one big family. We are sure that the event steward and feast steward can use some help. Many hands make light work.

Till next month we remain in service,
Edward and Anastasie

Thank you to those who have contributed to this month's Full Tilt. Keep them coming!

November Business Meeting Minutes

Respectfully submitted by Amalie Reinhardt

Meeting is opened by Sir Yngvar at 7:01PM.

## Officer Reports

** Baron & Baroness - His Excellency Edward says they have not done much this month and is looking forward to Yule. He confirms youth champs are still happening at Yule.

** Herald - Alheydis is not present and did not send in a report. Yngvar says to submit heraldry stuffs to Alheydis.

** Chronicler - Desi is not present and sent in a report. The Blackfox awards were announced and the Full Tilt was nominated for Best Layout & Design and Best Special Issue. Desi thanked all who sent in articles and photos. The December issue will have a new classifieds section. You can think of it as the "Delftwood mini marketplace". As a reminder, the deadline for November's Full Tilt is tomorrow and nothing has been submitted as of this time.

Yngvar suggest that we make Yngvar stick figures.

** Web Minister - Amalie is Working on new website design using Wordpress, which will include a template for people's individual profile pages. She is about 2/3rds done and hopes to complete the redesign by the end of November.

** Arts & Sciences - Lijsbet says, "They are totally happening in this Barony." She thanks everyone who has taught classes in the past couple of months. Classes have been Wonderful, educational, and helpful.

Upcoming Classes:

November 8 - Food Subtleties (Lijsbet)

November 15 - Retaining for TRM (Megge)

November 22 - No A&S (Thanksgiving)

November 29- Viking chest class (Olaf) & 5th Thursday Potluck

There are 2 upcoming events - AAcademy (November 10) in the Hael and Cooks Collegium & Dancing (November 17) in Coppertree. Thorpe informs us that our Princess will be attending the cooking/dancing event. They will be looking for retainers. Also, there will be 2 dance bands and 4 instructors; therefore, there will be dancing all day. Lijsbet is looking for class teachers for January and beyond. Lastly, only $44 was collected for the site last month. Sparse attendance was noted for October.

** Knight Marshal - Marcus is not present and sent in a report. Fight practice has been happening with three or more fighter's participating at any given practice. Practice was canceled for Halloween. Next week is the monthly Delftwood tourney. Loaner gear is available for those who'd like to try heavy weapons. There will be no fight practice on November 28, as the site is unavailable. Cyneric asks if there will be practice on November 21. Helene and Marcus will need to discuss this and inform everyone via the email list.

** Fencing Marshal - Helene says that fencing practice is also Wednesday nights. She also says fencing practice is canceled on November 28 (and says to go to the spaghetti dinner at the host site instead). She thanks all who help setup and reset up the site. Helene is stepping down in February and says if anyone is both interested and qualified to send in letter of intent to their Excellencies, the Seneschal, and her. You must be a warranted AE rapier marshal.

** Thrown Weapons - Her Excellency Anastasie says that thrown weapons practice has been hit and miss due to weather. It has been declared it is getting too cold; therefore, thrown weapons is on hiatus until spring.

** Minister of Lists - Failenn is not present and sent in a report. She will be at the tournament next week. If you are interested in learning about becoming an MOL, please come too. Failenn would like to step down as Delftwood MOL in February. If you are interested, please send a letter of intent to their Excellencies, their Incipencies, Earl Yngvar and her. If you have any questions, please see Failenn at fight practice.

** Archery - Michael is not present. His Excellency Edward says that archery happens most weeks and that they will move inside when Michael says so.

** Chancellor Minor - Sultana is not present and she did not submit a report.

** Chatelaine - Desi is not present and sent in a report. There will be no newcomer meeting this month due to Thanksgiving. If there are any Newcomers who need loaner garb or feast gear for Yule, please contact Desi. The Delftwood brochures are now being displayed at the Erie Canal Museum. The Salt Museum has also agreed to display Delftwood brochures. If you know of anywhere that would be willing to display the Delftwood brochure, please Desi me know.

** Historian - Oeric is not present and did not send in a report. We imagine history is still in a scary box on his porch... And Helene has stuff for it.

** Chamberlain - Finn says that "stuff is happening in the storage unit". Items will come out for Yule. We will be paying for the storage unit for 6 months (ahead of time). Unfortunately, there is no discount for that.

** Exchequer - Cyneric lists all income collected and payments made. The balance in the Barony's account is $2184.73. To note: Payments include the storage shed and the new coronets.

** Seneschal - Yngvar sent in his quarterly report. His term is up at the February business meeting. He would like to take a year of his own, but all are encouraged to apply. Alheydis would remain his deputy if he takes another year.

## Events

** Delftwood Yule - December 1 (Sts Peter & Paul Bingo Hall)

up the facility. (This is after BINGO has finished for the night.) Help will also be needed for the clean up crew after the event. Ljlsbet will be cooking at the site on Thursday night (Nov 28) if you'd like to help cook. There will be shifts in children's area. Felicity needs to know about the Baronial A&S competition and Baronial Bardic competition. There will also be the Kingdom Youth Championship and the Deed. TRM are coming so we will need retainers. The Schedule is on the Kingdom and Barony sites. The cost for the event is $15 on-board, $10 off-board.

** Seven Deadly Sins - February 2 (St Sophia's)

Jennet quietly says it is 3 months to the event. If you would like be a volunteer, please let Jennet know. The event announcement has not been made, as of yet.

Other Business

** Web Domain renewal

Amalie says we need to renew our website domain. We have options for one or two years. The amounts for renewal are 12 months for $61.60 or 24 months for $123.20. A motion is made by Amalie to renew for 2 years. The vote is "website good, fire bad" and passes.

As there is no other business, Sir Yngvar closes the meeting at 7:25PM.

Delftwood Bardic Champ Rules

Good Competitors and interested populace!

This year's Delftwood Baronial Bardic Championship will be held during our Yule Event on December 1, 2012. Starting at 2pm, Their Excellencies will choose from among those who are willing and able to perform the duties of Baronial Bardic Champion in the coming year.

The competition floor will also be open to the general populous, to compete for a best overall for the day. Because the same competition will be used for two honors, I will ask that all those who are competing for the Baronial Championship make it known to myself, Reinaldr Bjortappr (aka, Auld Kegtapper) before the competition begins, so I can call upon you early in the order. Their excellencies will have many contests to judge over the course of the day, and I would like finish with all competitors inside of 2 hours.

Contestants will please prepare 2 selections, under 5 minutes in length. Your second selection will only be needed in the event of a tiebreaker, so choose your first selection well! Stories, Poems, and songs are welcome, but please respect the 5 minute time requirement. Yuletide themes are NOT required, but strongly encouraged.

In Service,
Auld

Delftwood A&S Champ Rules

Greetings to Delftwood Yule attendees!

At the command of their Excellencies, Edward and Anastasie, Baron and Baroness of Delftwood, I send this missive about the A&S competitions at Yule!

The theme is repeated, courtesy of my predecessor, Lord Jan ten Walde. The Baronial A&S Championship and the Overall A&S Contest will run concurrently, and will feature you, the competitors, as its subject and theme. Participants should sculpt, carve, sew, brew, paint or otherwise craft an article, tool or object that the creator's persona would have used.

Please include with your entry a short summation of its history and use and how it relates to your persona.

(Please note: While an entry that can be made between now and Dec 1st is impressive, I know not all areas of study can be completed in a short length of time. Therefore, as long as your entry piece was begun and crafted in this calendar year of 2012, and has not won any A&S contests, it is eligible for entry in this contest.)

A winner in the Overall Contest will be decided upon by a panel of judges. The winner of our Baronial Championship will be decided by Their Excellencies from all qualified entries. All entries in the Baronial Championship may also be considered as entries in the Overall A&S Contest, if desired by the entrant. Entries must be presented and available for viewing no later than noon.

Be clever, be adventurous and be exciting!

Please visit our event webpage, "<http://www.delftwood.org/yule10.htm>" for registration and event information.

November 2012: Fruits of My Labor

"Medieval cookery was based on starch, but it was shot through with herbs and spices, of which the hottest, sharpest, strongest, and bitterest were the best liked. All housewives used quantities of herbs in their cookery." (McLean, p. 200)

While I had been clipping and using fresh herbs and green onions for cooking all summer long, after the warning of a hard frost, it was time to harvest. Though small, it was exciting to have something to harvest and prepare for the winter.

First, I gathered all the beans I could find. There were not many. I then took clippings of most of the herbs. I decided to let the sage continue growing and establish itself. Besides, my previous experience with sage shows that it is very hearty and continues to grow through November.

I reserved the beans and some of the herbs to try my hand at making a pottage using only what I harvested from my garden, but more on that later.

A Medieval Herbal advises that "to dry plants well, you need a constant temperature, good circulation of air, dryness and shade. In the Middle Ages, glassless windows would have ensured these conditions." (p. 59) I took the remaining herbs, labeled them, and hung them up to dry in my kitchen on a wall away from windows. When they are dry, I will put them in glass jars for use throughout the winter.

Regarding the pottage, I used all of the beans, herbs, the tops of the leeks and green onions, and set them to cook in a large pot. The result was not thick like a bean or pea soup should be. This is probably due to the significant lack of beans. It did, however, make a rather nice broth. I then purchased turnips, parsnips, and bacon to add to my pottage. This combined elements of two recipes from Forme of Cury ("rapes in pottage" and "For to make groden Benes"). The result was a hearty, interestingly-flavored stew.

See you next month!
Helene
