Letter from the Baronage

Unto the Fair Populace of Delftwood do Baron Fergus and Baroness Helene send greetings on this the 947th anniversary of the Battle of Hastings.

We had a thrilling day at Crown Tournament this past weekend. So many exciting things happened. First and foremost, Æthelmearc has heirs! We thank Herr Fridrich and Meisterin Felicitas as well as Lady Beatrix and Earl Yngvar for seeing that Delftwood was well represented on the field of honor. We send our heartiest congratulations to Prince Magnus Tindal and Princess Etain ingen Dwaig. We are always thrilled when close friends of Delftwood achieve greatness. As our local Minister of the Lists, Lady Amalie Reinhardt, said as she was helping at Crown Tournament, "This is the most exciting time I've written his name!"

Earlier in the day, we were presented with the long-awaited new coronets. They are absolutely beautiful, and we will be bringing them to the next few practices and meetings to people can see them in person. These coronets are crafted by the hand of Lord Ian Mor Mac Eanruig and this project was made possible because of the work of many of our predecessors, as well as those who fundraised to pay for them. We are truly honored to wear such art, representing such effort. It is certain that the brilliance of Delftwood will shine whenever these coronets are worn.

As fall sets in and transitions to winter, we encourage everyone to hone their blueberry food/drink entries and their argent jewelry/metalworking entries for Yule and Seven Deadlies respectively. We also encourage our artisans and performers to prepare for the upcoming Baronial A&S and Baronial Performance Arts (a.k.a. Bardic) competitions at Yule

We could not be more proud of our Barony and its populace.

Fergus & Helene

A Song & Poem

By Lady Megge Gormshileach

Milo Oreo

(Based on "Dido Bendigo", a fox-hunting song originating in 1685 http://yorkshirefolksong.net/song_database/Sport/Dido_Bendigo.92.aspx)

As I sat a-reading one evening last winter
I spied on my hearthstone a tiny grey creature,
Between two tabby-kins with a third just joining in,
At twilight, 'twas quite late in the evening

Chorus:

There was Milo, Oreo, Whiskers, Taz and Zoey-boo,
Oliver -- his tail a-twitch behind him.
There was Princess, Clover, Moggy, Tam and Topher --
And not a one would come when you called them.

Now this mousy being young and his short life just beginning,
He's made straight way for a corner.
He's hidden in the broom, but may find out all too soon
He's lost his life and freedom there forever.

The Lass In The Lane

I saw a lass standing in the lane
Near to yester's battlefield.
Her face was wrought with sorrow plain
Quietly she sobbed and crooned.
I asked "What causes you such pain,
While your tears fall down like rain?"
The answer caused my heart to break
right soon.:

"Have you seen my true love's sword
and shield
Upon the field, upon the field?
My love has lost his sword and shield
In the battle yesternoon.
I must find his sword and shield
While the armies quit the field,
For my true love may need them right
soon.

"Have you seen my true love's good strong horse
On the field, on the field?

My love has lost his good strong horse
In the battle yesternoon.
I must find his good strong horse
Who ran away in the battle's course,
For my true love may need him right
soon.

"Have you seen my true love's broken form
Upon the field, upon the field?
My love lies broken, dead and shorn
In the battle yesternoon.
I must find his broken form
From which the life has all been torn,
For my true love may need it right soon.

So I asked "What will you wi'sword and shield
From the field, from the field?
What will you do wi'the good strong horse
From the battle yesternoon?
What will you wi'your true love's form,
Now that the life from him's been torn?
How could your true love need them
right soon?"

Chorus

Now another mouse quite bold and for a rodent cunning
He's dove head first beneath the dresser;
Right under it he slid, but another there has hid --
It was Oliver who ate him there for dinner.

Chorus

Now despite the long-shot odds, the first mouse has survived
And now races 'round beneath the table
As the fire light grows dim there's eleven cats after him
All reaching to catch him as they're able.

Chorus

She replied "I will take up sword and
shield
On the field, on the field.
I will ride his good strong horse
In the battle tomorrow noon.
I will carry his broken form
From which life has all been torn,
And I'll go join my true love right
soon."

So we found her true love's sword and
shield
Upon the field, upon the field.
We chas-ed down his good strong horse
Wounded at the yesternoon.
We did find her true love's form
Handsome though of life full shorn,
And she rode to join her true love right
soon.

DELFTWOOD NEEDS YOUR HELP!

Dear Noble Populace,

Their Majesties, King Timothy and Queen Gabrielle are happy to welcome our Heirs to the throne, Sir Magnus Tindal and Lady Etain ingen Dalaig, the new Prince and Princess of Æhelsemarc. How exciting to know that Their Highnesses dwell so close to our Barony! That being taken into consideration, we might be honored with their presence at many of our events.

I would like to acknowledge every donation of Largesse we receive. I know Baroness Clarice Roan had donated walnut ink, Rita Carpintero donated small handkerchiefs, and the awesome scribes that donated their talents to making note cards and envelopes. If I missed anyone, please know it was inadvertent and if you contact me, I will gladly acknowledge your much needed support.

Our Largesse stash is still greatly depleted and I have taken up the task to replenish the stores. Do you make soap? Do you embroider? Make jewelry? Sew? Paint? Woodwork? And If you do, you can help us fill our coffers. Just contact me and I will be happy to give you ideas... even I CAN MAKE LARGESSE, so if you can walk and chew gum, YOU CAN TOO!!!

Please consider donating soon and often!

Yours in Service,
Catalina Carpintero de Diaz

Delftwood October Business Meeting

10/3/13 ~ Submitted by Lady Amalie Reinhardt

Meeting open by Sir Yngvar at 7:04 PM.

Announcements

Yngvar received a card from Their Majesties thanking us for the Shoot in the Wildwoode.

Baron and Baroness

Her Excellency Helene exclaims that we have a new King & Queen. Fergus attended Coronation and pledged fealty to the Crown. It has been upheld that wherever there are windmills, there is Delftwood.

She also thanks all who participated in the notecard sweat shop and to those who gave items for largess.

Their Excellencies will be getting new cousins as the Baron & Baroness of Blackstone Mountain will soon be coroneted.

We will be getting heirs next weekend at Crown. (Right, Yngvar?) The tournament will take place in the Rhyderich Hael. We wish the best of luck to those in our Barony who are fighting and/or are consorts to the fighters.

Yngvar spoke to Ian McHenry about the new coronets.

They are done and beautiful! He will be fighting at Crown, so he will be handing them to Delftwood. He would like payment at some point after delivery.

Pursuivant

Othindisa tells us that Marcus is a new voice deputy. All her deputies are awesome and continue do lots of stuff. She mentions the Society approval letter is not out as of yet and that Genevieve's arms and name were passed. Crown Tournament needs a lot of help as there are 32 combatants. Please consider helping the MoLs, marshals, and heralds.

Chronicler

Margarita informs us that the August A&S issue was a huge success with 8 submissions and 24 pages. Please go read it if you haven't yet!

The next issue of the Full Tilt will be out as soon as possible. If you have submissions, pictures, or help wanteds, please send them her way.

Lijsbet gives congratulations to Margarita for getting an article on fletchings published in a society-wide publication.

Webminister

Amalie notes the website is still there and minor updates have been made, as needed. If you have suggestions, additions, handouts, or profile information, please send it to her.

Chirurgion

Michael says, "I got nothin'."

Arts & Sciences

Lijsbet reads the upcoming A&S Schedule:

10/10: Stained Glass Class (Baron Artemis)

10/17: How to be Gluten-Free in SCA (Baroness Clarice) & Fiber Arts Roundtable (Lady Genevieve) and Apron Class (Meisterin Felicity)

10/24: Cook's Guild Meeting – The recipe to redact is on the Guild's Facebook page

10/31: Baronial Potluck – Everyone is encouraged to wear non-medieval Halloween costumes

Upcoming events in A&S:

Royal University in the Midrealm – Nov. 2

Aethelmearc Aecademy in Little Falls, NY – Nov. 9

Their Excellencies' next A&S challenges are cooking/brewing at Yule (blueberry theme) and jewelry (argent theme) at Seven Deadlies.

Lijsbet is looking for teachers to fill spots in November & December

Knight Marshal

Felicity delivers Fridrich's report: Lots of people have been coming to practice and practice has moved inside.

Thank you for those who been bringing loaner gear.

Fridrich's main concern is that they only collected $33 this month and the site costs $25 for hall each night.

They are looking for a different site and have found some, but they cost more.

Caryl mentions that we rent a lot of different places. She poses that if we find a space where we could do everything and rent it all the time, we could use it for various things at various times. Getting a space at Shoppingtown Mall was just out of doable range, but perhaps a warehouse? We are looking at a $300-$500 range each month, given our current monthly expenses.

Keyard says he's been looking personally for space suggests looking on Craigslist.

We are going to look to see what is available and bring this back up at a future meeting.

Fencing Marshal

Keyard states no one has been hurt. Practice has been well attended and has moved inside. He is thinking fencing will go in a class-based direction.

Thrown Weapons

Lanen says thrown weapons is going very well. No one has hurt themselves. October 8 will be last Tuesday practice due to lack of sun. Sundays will continue to happen until it gets cold. 12-1:30 will be axe/knives and 1:30-3 atlatl. They are now killing pumpkins. Keyard has wood for targets.

Minister of Lists

Amalie reports that Sir Yngvar won September's monthly tournament. She MoL'd at Harvest Raid and will help at Crown. If anyone is interested in learning how to MoL, please let Amalie know.

Archery

Michael says archery is happening outside as long as weather permits and that there is loaner gear available.

Chancellor Minor

Sultana sent in a report. There were youth events held at Wildwoode. She thanks Wilhelm and Bran for their assistance. Sultana plans to have events scheduled for Yule and will be asking for volunteers.

Chatelaine

Margaret says that there have been 15 visitors to A&S meetings – both old friends and new people. She also states that loaner garb needs to be updated and that she will accept old garb or donations of material.

Historian

Oeric is not present. We think history is still in box on the porch... or under a bed... We're not really sure where it is, but it's there... somewhere.

Chamberlain

Finnr reports that stuff is resting comfortably in its home. One piece is missing and is in the process of being located and returned.

Rent on the storage unit is up next month. Right now we are content, but in the future we may have to increase the storage unit size.

Finnr also says we have enough stuffed animals for Wildwood next year. Someone suggests that Sultana may be able to use stuffed animals as prizes at a future event.

Exchequer

Cyneric lists all income and expenses for the past month, which includes a donation from the YMCA demo, payment for the P.O.Box, and all the site fees. Baron Fergus thanks Cyneric for his hard work.

There were proposed policy changes sent over the listserv:

- Currently we do not have a policy for requested monies under $100.
- We give refunds to people who do not make events, but it is not codified.

We give complimentary admission to events for Royalty & family. We voted on the same for the autocrat & feastrocrat, but it is not in the bylaws.

Edward would like to add current landed baronage to the list of complimentary admissions. Felicity said they should have the option, but not make it mandatory.

Michael asks to only give refunds if requested.

The changes will be voted on next month. Yngvar says think about and discuss this on the list. The changes will be formally written down and sent to the list by mid-month.

Seneschal

Yngvar has nothing to report.

Events

Yule – January 4, 2014 at Sts. Peter & Paul Bingo Hall
Margarita states that feast coming together as Ian is doing a good job putting it together. Please sent in allergies and food restrictions.

Margarita is looking for any musicians or dance people (to play and/or teach). There will be a performance by the Commedia d'Arte troupe and there will be carol singing. If anyone makes their own pickles, and would donate as a prize for one of the games, please let Margarita know.

Two people have offered their assistance with this. Corwin has a good idea of what he wants to do for the A&S Championship. Amalie announces the theme of "War & Peace" for the Bardic championship. There will be 2 performances pieces, one from each theme (with War first).

Seven Deadlies – (new date/location) February 8, 2014 at Missio Chirch Lijsbet gives a new bid as there was a snafu with the date, which led to finding a new site. The new date is February 8 at Missio Church, which is a gothic cathedral. The new theme is "The Field of Cloth of Gold" (Tudor).

There will be a contest for gold garb, commedia, and a singing choir, if possible.

Felicity & Fridrich will be making an awesome feast (that is not guilt free).

Bid by Felicity for Tournament of the Windmill

The event will be held at the same site as the previous 2 years, will be for 3 days (Friday-Sunday, June 26-28), and Fridrich & Felicity would be event stewards. There would be a $750 cost + $50 insurance form. The fees would be $10 adults; children $5, babes in arms free, and a $30 family cap. The break even is at 80 adults.

Feast would be a steak dinner on Saturday night. Cost would be $8/adult; $5/children, and babes-in-arms free. There would be no fee for tent camping, but there would be a $10 cost for a cabin room. There would also be a possibility to buy in to Hus Faerhaga's breakfast.

The theme would be Tournament of the Windmill - Countess 50 Year. The fighting would be on a 14th Century theme.

Picnic lunches offered as a Baronial fundraiser. These would be prepared by people in the Cooks' Guild and auctioned off. There is a discussion of ideas behind the lunch baskets, including having teasers, hold the auction in a silent auction format (so no one wins them all), have some smaller lunches (for 1-2 people), and have the auction at Seven Deadlies to know what you are getting way in advance.

Yngvar says we will wait a month to vote on the event to see if any other bids come in and to see what happens with lunch.

Cyneric also asks us to please consider the use of AC-CEPS beforehand. Wildwood had no reservations through ACCEPS.

New Business

Michael informs us that when archery moves indoors, we will need to buy more indoor targets.

Desi has Maine Source give back. She has all the information now. With the card you get from the sign up form, you get a card. Then 5% of your purchase goes back to your non-profit.

Lanen announces she would like to bid for Wildwood for 2014. She will have a write-up at a future meeting.

Edward suggests that we give Wildwood $20 for propane that we used for the shower. Also he suggests that the Barony buy a shower to use. Showers cost about $200, and that does not include the enclosure.

The motion for giving a $25 donation to Wildwood is voted upon and passes.

Marcus suggests that we get full quote before we vote on the motion for buying a shower.

Seeing that there is no further business, the meeting is closed by Sir Yngvar at 8:19 PM.

Baron Artemis Andreas Magnus teaches a class on making medieval stained glass.
