Draw your base curve:

Create these curves as you see fit to best fit the space provided. Add this element last.

Add the leaf sections:

When you want to flip the leaf, pull the point off of your center curve.
Start the next part of the leaf off of that edge. Erase any unnecessary lines.

Add the shading:

NB: When shading on white ground, you are adding the shadows. See the leaf on the right.
When shading on black ground, you are adding the highlights. See the leaf on the left.
